"Consider adding more detail on the methodology, e.g., what were the criteria for selecting the research articles what technique was used to extrapolate findings? Was this a scoping review, systematic review, meta analysis? Similarly, what technique was used to correlate survey findings with the literature search?"

"Consider adding the demographics of the population of health care professionals, and better detail specific professions. It was also unclear whether or not the target population of the project was limited to New York State in scope."
